

Calimer Transmissions warrants that each transmission sold by Calimer Transmissions will be free from defects in material and workmanship under normal use for a period of 90 days after delivery of the transmission. Calimer Transmissions sole obligation under this warranty shall be to repair or replace, at its option, the defective transmission at no charge to the customer. Under no circumstance will Calimer Transmissions be liable for any oil, towing, labor, or rental vehicle charges.

As a condition of this warranty the customer must return any allegedly defective product. This warranty does not apply to unsatisfactory product performance which is attributed in whole or in part, to any factor, condition, or circumstance other than defects in material or workmanship. Without limiting the foregoing, this warranty shall be null and void if repair or replacement is required because of improper installation, accident, physical or electrical stress, neglect, misuse, or any other cause other than the ordinary and intended use for which the product was designed, or if the product has been dismantled, altered, or repaired by the customer or by any third party. This warranty expressly does not cover loss or injury from the use of the product. By accepting and/or installing the product, you are agreeing to the terms of the warranty.

Parts damaged due to any reason other than defects in material or workmanship will be the sole responsibility of the customer.

Life and performance of transmissions are dictated by quality of installation, associated components, and capability of the driver/operator.

It is the potential installer and/or assembler's responsibility to determine whether he or she has the necessary skills, knowledge, and tools to properly and safely install the Calimer Transmissions built transmission described herein. Improper installation may cause the vehicle to function improperly or not to function. Improper assembly and/or installation may additionally cause a risk to personal safety or property. If the assembler and/or installer is confused or has questions or concerns about a particular assembly or installation, he or she should contact Calimer Transmissions before proceeding further. The information contained in these instructions does not constitute a warranty or guarantee of any kind.

An assembler's and/or installer's failure to correctly follow these guidelines constitutes a waiver of the assembler and/or installer's rights against Calimer Transmissions regarding any subsequent damages to property or personal injury caused by the assembler's and/or installer's improper assembly and/or installation.

Calimer Transmissions is not responsible for any vehicle damage resulting from improper installation or transmission failure. It is the customer and/or installers responsibility to install proper safety equipment into the vehicle upon installation of transmission or components.

If you feel the need to act upon this warranty, you must contact Calimer Transmissions at the first sign of an issue via phone and email. If contact is not made when the issue arises, and normal operation of the vehicle continues the warranty will be void.